ELDER CRAFTSMEN FALL 2008

TRAIN THE TRAINER CRAFT WORKSHOPS

Although we design our projects for the skills of older adults, the symbols are used to specify the skill level.
 ♥ easy and simple    ♥♥ good vision and/or basic sewing skills. All classes copyright 2008, Elder Craftsmen

ORIGAMI ORNAMENTS ♥

with MaryAnn Scheblein~Dawson
 2 Tuesdays, September 16th & 23rd
 from 1~3:30 pm
 At: Muhlenberg Library, conference room
 209 West 23rd St., Manhattan

Join the Fold! with origami expert MaryAnn Scheblein-Dawson as she takes you on a magical journey of folding paper to create wonderful shapes that anyone will love. Origami fascinates people and can bridge language barriers as well as be an amazing educational and therapeutic tool. So as MaryAnn says at the end of her email, "Fold something, you'll feel better!"

RE~PURPOSED JEWELRY ♥

with Fran Phillips
 2 Mondays, Oct 20th & 27th
 from 10 am~12:30
 At: Prospect Park Residence
 1 Prospect Park, Brooklyn
 6th floor Arts & Crafts Room

Gather all your single earrings, broken necklaces and bracelet parts and come play. With a few jewelry findings, various types of chain, some wire and a little ingenuity you'll be wearing a new creation home from class. This is an Art of Re-Use project.

SWEATSHIRT JACKET ♥♥

with Dess Kelley
 2 Thursdays, Oct. 30 & Nov. 13
 Note: these classes are two weeks apart
 from 10 am~12:30 pm
 At: Hartley House
 413 West 46th Street, Manhattan

Dress up a basic pullover sweatshirt with the addition of interesting print fabric shapes and a few embellishments. Dess will take you through all the steps to accurately measure and cut the sweatshirt, then dress it up with appliqué. This class will concentrate on hand stitching using the buttonhole stitch but this project could easily be adapted for machine sewing.

PATTERNED PAPER POP~UP GREETING CARDS ♥♥

with Anne Kronenberg
 3 Tuesdays, November 4, 11, 18
 from 1~3:30 pm
 At: Hudson Guild, activity room
 119 Ninth Ave, Manhattan

This simple yet complex looking technique will have you doing things with paper you never thought possible and it's easy enough for any skill level to do. In the first session you will decorate your paper with paint using stamps, sponges and stencils, in the second session Anne will introduce all the variations of pop-ups and you will create beautiful and unusual cards with your hand painted papers.

GREETING CARD STAR ♥ with Fran Phillips

1 Tuesday, October 14th
 from 10 am~12:30
 At: Muhlenberg Library, conference room
 209 West 23rd St., Manhattan

This Art of RE-Use class is for all of you who collect greeting cards and don't know what to do with them. Fran will give you lots of ideas for recycling holiday and other cards to make sensational ornaments or decorations.

SEWING ROLL ♥♥ with Diane Schneck

2 Wednesdays, Dec. 3 & 10
 from 10 am~12:30 pm
 At: 58th Street Library, 2nd floor
 127 East 58th Street, Manhattan

Make a cute sewing kit to use at home or to take along. This easy to sew project features pockets for sewing tools, a pincushion and yoyo embellishments. The convenient size and shape rolls up to fit neatly in a purse or tote.

 Mail check or bring check or cash, for materials fee, to first class.

REGISTRATION

Train the Trainer Craft Workshops are free to teaching staff, volunteers and members of older adult groups, with only a small materials fee of $10.00.
 Participants must teach the crafts they learn to the members of their group.

The materials fee covers the cost of supplies for each participant to make a sample item to take back to their groups, as well as resource materials to assist in their future classes. Only one materials fee per person is required for a workshop, even if it has several sessions. No more than 2 people from one organization may attend an individual workshop. Groups may enroll people in several workshops.
